

Letter from Pran's son:

Dear Father,

Thanks so much for that letter of yours. I've sketched something cool that I think you'll love (make sure to check the attachments!). Mother's sleeping after the big get together we had with Nani for her 90th. We got her a plant hydrator that tells her when the garden needs watering.

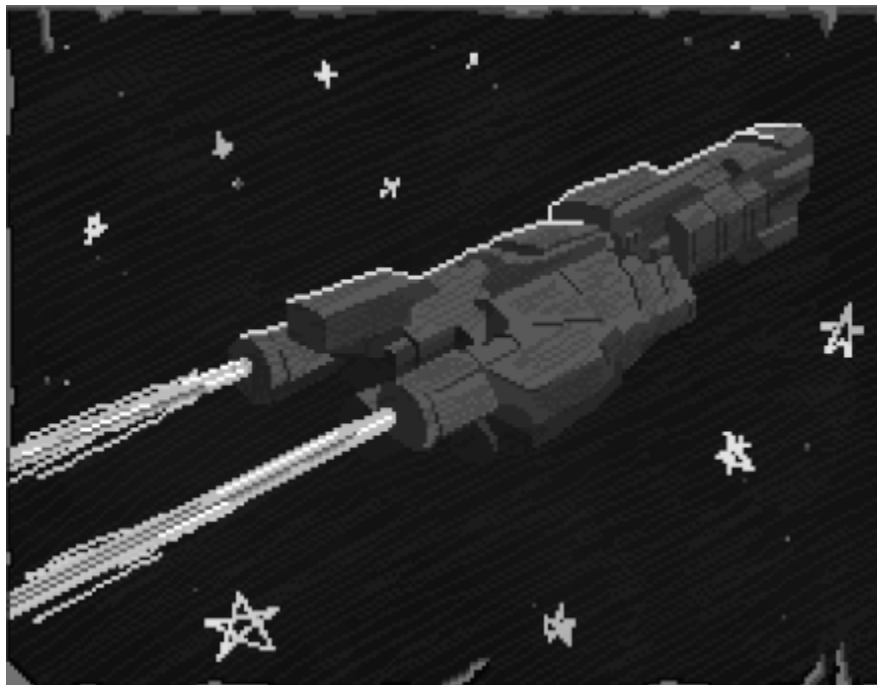

Nani asked about you, as she always does. You better write her a birthday card and send it through, or she'll 'fly to Lupo II and give you a good smack'. Her words. Not mine.

About Lupo II, are you almost done there? Mother's trying to hide it but I can tell she's not feeling any better. Maybe Packdon can let you come home for a bit? Please ask them.

Love you, Father.

- Aarav

P.S: I hope you get upgraded to the Vert drone. Its vertical speeds are insane.

Null Fever Pamphlet:*Overview

Null Sickness or "Null Fever" is a life-threatening condition that results from significant exposure to the nuclei of a Nullstar or its smaller "Fragments" undergoing fission. This breakdown involves the dark outer matter falling apart and masking itself into the surrounding environment. This condition mostly occurs in pilots, engineers or wholesalers mishandling Null Fragment storage receptacles.

ALL ART MADE BY CASSANDRA LEE

Symptoms

Symptoms tend to begin days after initial exposure. Every affected patient tends to start feeling feverish (hence the name “Null Fever”). If exposure continues, this accelerates the appearance and severity of symptoms.

The most common symptoms of Null Sickness include:

- High fever
- Weakness or fatigue
- Insatiable appetite
- Tremors, typically in the hands and knees
- Delirium
- Nausea and vomiting
- Tooth decay or loss
- Bleeding, typically from the mouth, finger, and toenails

Course of Action

On every Packdon Industries vessel, there is a medical receptacle capable of diagnosing symptoms and sending transcripts to your medical or expedition lead. Please follow standard procedure, remain calm and continue all procedures until orders are delivered from your superior.

We at Packdon Industries take your health and safety very seriously.

Letter informing of Pran's death and infractions:

Gina Makubar,

We regret to inform you that Jr. Pilot Pran Makubar has passed during his scavenging mission to Lupo II. We also regret to inform you that Jr. Pilot Pran Makubar violated multiple clauses of his employment and assignment contracts.

These violations involve:

- Tampering with Packdon Industries systems and resources
- Contacting a Packdon Industries vessel without proper approval
- The mismanagement of materials collected during the mission
- The ejection of materials without the written consent of a superior

The subsequent fines for these infractions will be sent to your residential address shortly. If you wish to appeal these fines, please contact our Fines and Fees department.

ALL ART MADE BY CASSANDRA LEE

Due to Jr. Pilot Pran Makubar's multiple violations, clause 43 regarding funeral costs is void and null. All financial responsibility returns to Jr. Pilot Pran Makubar's next of kin. Packdon Industries cannot be held accountable for any distress this places on the next of kin and their close relations.

Jr. Pilot Pran Makubar's body will be sent to the morgue closest to your residential address for retrieval within 3-10 business days. We have disclosed our Retrieval Services contact details within this letter should you have any questions.

With Condolences,
Packdon Industries HR Department

Hiring Advertisement:
WE ARE HIRING

Packdon Industries are looking for the next world-class scavengers to uncover the Nullstar Fragments laying dormant on Lupo II in the Urora system.

We're hiring at all levels! If you're looking for a challenge with the best scavenger rates, please take a tag and email your latest resume and cover letter.

Packdon Industries - Bringing Star Power Straight To You

